

Status of Damage to Fishery-Related Facilities in Aomori, Iwate, Miyagi, and Fukushima Prefectures

	Total number of fishing ports	Number of damaged fishing ports	Reported cost of damage (¥100 million)	Details
Aomori	92	18	41
Iwate	111	108	1,031
Miyagi	142	142	4,167	Devastating damage to all fishing ports
Fukushima	10	10	810	Devastating damage to all fishing ports

Note: 1. Damage is as of 17:00 on May 31, 2011.

2. Figures on fishing ports and fishing vessels are based on reports from the prefectures concerned.

3. Only facilities on which reports have been received at present are included. The damage is therefore expected to turn out to be considerably higher.

4. The tsunami also caused tremendous damage to other facilities, including oil depots, fresh seafood storage facilities, and fishery storage facilities.

Details of damage to these facilities are presently under investigation.
